

Fake Lottery Email Example

A fake lottery email is a common phishing scam that falsely claims the recipient has won a prize to trick them into sharing personal or financial information.

Sample Email

Subject: Congratulations! You Won $1,000,000!

Dear Winner,

Your email address has been selected as the grand prize winner in our International Lottery. To claim your prize, reply with your full name, address, phone number, bank details, and a processing fee.

Congratulations!

Lottery Claims Department

Warning Signs

- Unexpected prize notification
- Requests personal or bank details
- Asks for processing or registration fees
- Creates urgency to respond quickly
- Uses generic greetings

Safety Tips

Do not reply, click links, or send money. Verify any lottery claim through official sources and mark the email as spam.